

Recruit Release Notes Changes Launching 2016-1-27

Waivers see it on your QA site

Changed the waiver's "position title" to "position working title", to make sure people didn't confuse it with a title code.

* Position working title

e.g. Assistant Professor

This is the name of the waiver in the system

Effective date of initial appointment to current position

Enter the effective date of the candidate's first appointment to this position without a break in service; not just the most recent appointment

We've added help text to the Waiver Candidate Information section to better explain the "Effective date of initial appointment to current position" field.

Design

Replaced the term "Diversity Reports" in the system with the more accurate and more universally understood "Applicant Pool Report" and "Shortlist Report", as appropriate. The old term was a holdover from when these two were the only recruitment-level reports in the system.

Compliance

We added an EEO is the Law poster supplement on the apply page and recruitment details pages, to be sure that it is available to potential applicants.

Added a new Job Location field that will be filled out when creating a recruitment. The field aids in our compliance efforts and our Academic Job Exchange collaboration, especially where the job is located off-campus. The analyst enters the city and state, and Recruit displays it to applicants on the recruitment details page.

Documentation

We've updated the Recruit User Guide to incorporate a few small features that had slipped through.

Bugs 'n Things

- We're no longer allowing departments with identical names to be created under the same school/division.
- Administrators will no longer see the yellow "My Recruitments" popup on the right side, as it was a performance hit. This was hidden for admins before, and came back accidentally. We've banished it once more.
